To The Media:

Welcome to the Milwaukee Bucks' second decade in the NBA. The cooperation and coverage the media has afforded us through the first ten years of the organization has been superb. We appreciate your efforts and aims and will assist you in any way possible. The following are some of the services we will provide and some of the things we ask of you to help us run our operation smoothly.

- * Individual game credentials should be requested a minimum of 30 hours prior to game time (Friday noon for weekend games). Pre-arranged credentials may be picked up at the will-call window in the southwest corner of the Arena just off the Kilbourn Street entrance. Credentials are good for admittance to the Arena, Press Room, and home and visiting locker rooms. Media members holding Bucks' season passes should notify this office of their intentions to cover a game in order to reserve seating on the press table. All press seating in the Milwaukee Arena is on court level.

- * The press room is located on court level in the northeast corner of the Arena. The room opens 1½ hours before the game and again at halftime and following the game. Secure storage of typewriters, coats, and the like is available. We must limit press room usage to members of the media only when valid Bucks' press passes are presented. It is impossible to accommodate family members, friends, guests, or others. The professional intent of the room is to provide a meeting and working place for bonafide writers, reporters, broadcasters, and game personnel.

- * Both the Bucks' and visitors' locker rooms will be open up to 45 minutes before game time and ten minutes after the game. Your cooperation is asked in maintaining a work atmosphere in the locker rooms for post-game interviews. Those newspapers with morning deadlines and TV stations doing live spots should be given preference in obtaining players and coaches. Basically common courtesy should prevail.

- * Special instructions for all cameramen can be found on the back of both the season and individual game photo passes.

- * Pre-game press notes, lineup and scoring sheets, and the current program insert will be available in the Press Room before the game. Programs will be available on a limited basis. Play-by-play, quarter stats, and half-time box scores will be delivered directly to the press table. Please keep sets quarter-by-quarter. A limited number of play-by-play sheets and halftime boxed will be available in the Press Room after the game. Complete final boxes and fourth quarter play-by-plays will be available after the game in the Press Room.

- * Both telecopier and video relay terminals (VRT) are available at every Bucks home game through Milwaukee Independent. The service may be contacted in advance by phone or prior to the game. Lee Kujawa (414-543-0642) and Sid Mason (414-475-7777) operate the service.

1978 - 79 Schedule Format

The Bucks meet all 21 teams twice at home and twice on the road with the exception of Detroit and Atlanta. The Hawks only appear at the Arena once, while Milwaukee plays the Pistons just one time on the road.

NBA Playoff Format

Under the National Basketball Association playoff formula, 12 teams will be eligible for post season play.

Each Division winner in the Atlantic, Central, Midwest and Pacific will automatically go into the playoffs no matter what the team's record is.

Then the next best four teams in each conference (based on won/lost record) will go into the playoffs.

There will then be six teams in each conference in the playoffs. These teams will be ranked according to won/lost records with the team with the best record as number one and the team with the sixth best record as number six.

Teams ranked one and two will receive a bye in the first playoff round. The team ranked four and five will play each other in a best two-out-of-three series and teams ranked three and six meet each other in a best two-out-of-three series.

The winner of the series between teams four and five then meets team one in a best four-of-seven series. The winner of the three and six series then meets team two in a best four-of-seven confrontation.

The winners then play for a conference title and then on to the championship. Each of these series is best four-out-of-seven.

TICKET OFFICE: 901 North Fourth Street (southeast corner of Arena), Milwaukee, WI 53203

OFFICE HOURS: Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., Saturdays 9 a.m. until Noon

GAME DAYS: Tickets are sold 10 a.m. until gametime at the Milwaukee Arena Box Office, and Milwaukee Bucks ticket office from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

All ticket inquiries should be directed to the Milwaukee Bucks ticket office, 901 North Fourth Street, Milwaukee, WI 53203. Season tickets are sold from June through October, and individual tickets for home games are placed on sale several weeks prior to the season's home opener. Individual tickets can be purchased by mail, in person at the Bucks ticket office, by phone through use of Master Charge Card, VISA Card, and through Ticketron outlets. Mail orders must include the date of game desired, alternate date choice, and check or money order for total amount of tickets ordered. A complete mailing address must accompany all mail orders. Phone orders can be made by calling 272-6030 with game choice, credit card number, expiration date, number and cost of tickets, and mailing address. Whenever possible, tickets will be returned by mail. A fifty cent handling charge is made for all mail and phone orders.

GROUP ORDERS: Group orders are gladly accepted, and Bucks' ticket personnel will cooperate fully with schools and organizations wishing to purchase 25 tickets or more for an individual game. Groups should plan at least 4-6 weeks in advance to obtain the best possible seats.

BONUS NIGHTS: On 15 nights during the Bucks' regular season, all regularly prices $5.50 seats are sold for $3.50 and all $3.75 seats are sold for $2.50. The "Bonus Night" tickets are sold on a first-come, first-served basis to individuals, groups and organizations, and may be ordered in advance by mail or phone, or purchased over the counter, or through Ticketron outlets.

PLAYOFF TICKETS: When the happy occasion arrives, Milwaukee Bucks playoff ticket purchase procedures are announced to the public well in advance of each playoff series. Season ticket holders are always given the opportunity to purchase their regular season locations for the playoffs.

INFORMATION: Up-to-the-minute Bucks ticket information can be received 24 hours a day by calling the Bucks ticket office, 414-272-6030.

BROADCAST INFORMATION

Radio broadcasts of all Milwaukee Bucks home and away games are originated by WTMJ, Milwaukee's NBC radio affiliate at 620 on the AM dial. Games are fed to a statewide network of over 20 stations throughout Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

Telecasts of 14 road games originate through WVTM-TV, Channel 18 in Milwaukee. The telecasts are fed to a network of cable stations covering the primary television markets in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE BUCKS 1978-79 TELEVISION SCHEDULE WVTM - CHANNEL 18

The Milwaukee Bucks will televise 15 road games back to Milwaukee on WVTM-Channel 18 during the 1978-79 NBA regular season.

The 15 game television schedule gets underway on Friday night December 8 at 10 p.m. when the Bucks travel to Los Angeles and take on the Lakers. In all, three games will be televised in December, five in January, three each in February and March, and one in April. Nine of the fifteen games are against Western Conference rivals.

The fifteen game schedule is a result of a new three year agreement between the Bucks and WVTM-Channel 18 reached over the summer. The new pact gives WVTM the rights to air selected road games during the regular season, as well as any road play-off contests that are not selected for national network coverage through the NBA television contract.

Eddie Doucette and Jon McGlocklin will continue to provide play-by-play and color analysis in the coming season. Doucette is the acknowledged "Voice of the Bucks" with ten years of calling the shots, while McGlocklin is in his third season of color commentary, having moved behind the mike in 1976 after retiring as an active player.

The 1978-79 Bucks television schedule is as follows:

DAY	DATE	OPPONENT	Milwaukee TIME
Friday	December 8	@ Los Angeles	10:00 p.m.

SPORTCOM

Sportcom is the corporate division of Milwaukee Professional Sports & Services, Inc. that handles radio-TV broadcasts, films, licensed merchandise and special promotional activity. Established in 1970, this promotional unit is responsible for the packaging of pre- and post-game shows for radio and TV, origination of TV signals of Bucks' home games for visiting teams and origination of Cable-cast signals for home games. Sportcom acts as designer, contractor and exclusive sales agent for all promotional items carrying the insignia of the Milwaukee Bucks and not supplied by NBA Properties, Inc. Sportcom also acts as agent for Milwaukee Bucks' players, coaches and broadcast talent in arranging various speaking engagements, personal appearances and advertising endorsements and publications for public sale and distribution.

Special facilities for visiting broadcast teams are maintained by Sportcom. These include Arena lighting facilities for TV colorcasts, a wireless microphone system for remote interview and filming and a UPI newswire. Costs of these facilities will be furnished on request of visiting teams or station representatives.

SPORTTRAITS

Sportraits Incorporated is a division of Milwaukee Professional Sports and Services which specializes in original sports artwork. Sportraits innovates commercial sports art projects. The corporation is based upon the talent of one of the nation's foremost artists and illustrators, George W. Pollard. Among the commercial ventures of Sportraits are player action portraits, original oil portraits of athletes, promotional items and montage posters.

MECCA'S GEOMETRIC COURT Designed By Robert Indiana

The design on the court you see before you was developed by Robert Indiana. Robert Indiana has said of himself, "I am an American painter of signs charting the course. I would be a people's painter as well as a painter's painter."

Succinctly he has explained his aims, and at the same time the reasons for his success, of which there can be no doubt. Since his first art show in 1960, Mr. Indiana's art has been seen and acclaimed internationally. The floor design along with LeRoy Neiman's "Basketball Superstars" painting for the 1977 All-Star Game in Milwaukee is the second major piece of art nationally recognized to have originated from Milwaukee.

Robert Indiana has established a lasting reputation as an artist who paints America. He paints about his country; its people; and about himself; as well as about the traditions and cultures we all know. Because his art speaks of the nature of our land and the American people, Robert Indiana is destined to be among the great American masters such as: Winslow Homer, Thomas Eakins, and Edward Hooper.

Indiana is one of the leaders of the Pop Art movement of the 1960's and 70's. The trademarks of his art are the lettered signs, directional symbols, commercial illustrations; precise shapes; and intensely active colors. His art has been referred to as American as apple pie. He deals with signs of life in both vocabulary and form. Like highway signs, his paintings are geometric shapes with bright, bold numbers and letters upon them. LOVE is perhaps his most famous series of paintings.

Claiming the same hometown as the Buck's Kent Benson in New Castle, Indiana. Mr. Indiana's works are on display across the country and such institutions as the Carnegie Institute of Arts in Pittsburgh, the Chicago Museum of Contemporary Art, the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City, Yale and Princeton Universities, and the Milwaukee Art Center all own works by Indiana. Previously Indiana has been commissioned to redesign the U.S. one cent piece by ART IN AMERICA, a mural for the New York State Pavilion at the New York World's Fair, and by the United States Government to design a Special Stamp for Someone Special in the denomination of 8 cents and issued originally in Philadelphia in 1973 just to name a few.

Robert Indiana has lived and worked in New York since 1954.

The court itself is the same that has been in use during past seasons. Before being painted, it was completely refinished and sealed. Indiana did not actually paint the court, that task was contracted to a local sign painting company. Indiana signed the court of the southwest corner with a can of spray paint and a specially prepared stencil. Mr. Indiana also designed the banners that hang above the upper parquet around the Arena. The colors will also be picked up in the outer lobbies as MECCA plans to refurbish those facilities. Total cost of the project approaches $40,000 with a portion of that to be recouped by the sale of banners and posters similar to those in the Arena.

BUCKS HISTORY — THE FIRST DECADE

Kareem and Commissioner Kennedy

On October 16, 1968, before a crowd of 8,467 at the Milwaukee Arena, the Milwaukee Bucks made their National Basketball Association debut. The Chicago Bulls, however, won 89-84. The Bucks first win came in their sixth game, a 134-118 victory over Detroit on October 31, 1968. The Bucks went on to win 27 games and lose 55 in their first season, but set a home attendance record for a first year team, averaging 6,246 fans at the Arena. Guard Jon McGlocklin led the team in scoring with a 19.6 average; forward Greg Smith was the leading rebounder, and guard Guy Rodgers was the playmaker.

The Bucks last place finish in the East Division and the last place finish in the West by the other expansion team, the Phoenix Suns, qualified the two teams for a coin flip to determine rights to the number one choice in the college draft. On March 19, 1969, NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy flipped the coin. Phoenix chose heads, the coin came up tails, and on April 2, 1969 the Bucks signed 7-2 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of UCLA.

Abdul-Jabbar became an instant superstar, teaming with McGlocklin, Smith, rookie Bob Dandridge and Flynn Robinson in leading the Bucks from the cellar spot to a runner-up place in the East. The Bucks won 56 and lost 26 that year and then defeated the Philadelphia 76ers in five games. 360,650 fans watched the Bucks at the Milwaukee Arena, an average of 9,490 per game. Following the season, the Bucks made their biggest trade — getting All-Pro Guard Oscar Robertson from Cincinnati for Flynn Robinson and Charlie Paulk. Just prior to the start of the 1970-71 season, Bob Boozer and Lucius Allen were acquired from Seattle for Don Smith.

With Kareem, Robertson, McGlocklin, Dandridge and Smith forming the starting five and Boozer, Allen and Dick Cunningham providing backup, the Bucks ran away with the Midwest Division in the newly aligned four division league setup. The Bucks won 66 and lost only 16 games, in the process setting six league records: home wins, 34; road wins, 28; field goal percentage, .509; field goals, 3972; and assists, 2249. In a playoff competition the Bucks dispatched San Francisco and Los Angeles in five game series and then blasted Baltimore four straight for the World's Championship, only the second time in league history that the title series ended so quickly. In winning the World's Championship, the Bucks had come further, faster, than any expansion team in the history of major professional sports.

In 1971-72 the Bucks made the playoffs for the third straight year, winning the Midwest Division for the second year in a row. The Bucks elevated Wayne Embry to the general manager post and named William Alverson, a legal advisor to the club since its beginning, president in March, 1972.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar earned the league's MVP honor for the second straight year, averaging 34.8 points per game and leading the NBA in that department. The Bucks found defense of their World Championship title difficult. The Bucks disposed of Golden State in five games. The "super series" for the Western Conference championship matched the Bucks against the Los Angeles Lakers, a contingent that had run a 33 game winning streak during the season before being derailed by the Bucks on January 9. The Bucks battled the Lakers in six exciting games before falling four games to two.

The Bucks completed the 1972-73 season with a 60-22 record, the only NBA team in history to post sixty or more wins in three consecutive seasons. The sixty wins were posted despite an unusual season which found the Bucks plagued by injuries. Coach Costello had his full roster available for barely more than half of the 82 game schedule. The Bucks finished the year with an NBA record of 14 straight victories to end the season, and entered the first round of the playoffs against Golden State. Possibly wearied by the whirlwind of winning the 14 games and the final race with the Lakers for the Western Conference title, the Bucks were surprised by a deep Golden State team, and fell 4-2 in the opening round.

The Bucks were one game short of their fourth consecutive season with 60 regular season wins or more in 1973-74, finishing the season with a 59-23 record. Numerous injuries during the season often put the Bucks in a manpower shortage situation, but the club rallied to offset the absence of various players at different times of the year. The most serious injury sidelined Lucius Allen for the last few games of the season and all of the playoffs. Allen tore a cartilage in his knee in a game March 15 in Detroit, and underwent surgery the following day. The Bucks again topped the Midwest Division and eliminated Los Angeles 4-1 in the playoffs and dispatched Chicago without delay 4-0. In the championship round against Boston, the Bucks faced a troublesome press than continually dogged their game. The series was highlighted by a double-overtime sixth game which the Bucks won in Boston, to knot the series at 3-3. In the NBA Championship round's final seventh game, the Bucks were defeated by the Celts 102-87.

Abdul-Jabbar

In 1974-75 the Bucks endured what might have been their most frustrating season on record. A pre-season broken hand kept Kareem Abdul-Jabbar sidelined for the first sixteen games of the season and the club was 3-13, putting themselves too far behind Midwest Division rivals to ever recover. A mid-season knee injury to All Star guard Jim Price sidelined him for the last half of the season. Kareem, Price and Bob Dandridge were named to the All Star team, the first time in club history that three members had been named to the honor squad. Although the Costello trademark of defense was upheld (the club's allowance of 100.7 points per game was the fifth best in the league), their 38-44 record put them in last place in the Midwest Division. The club's longest winning streak of the year was five games, and the team stayed in contention for the wild card playoff berth until the last week of the season. The Bucks lost 18 games during this fretful year by five points or less, and 11 of those losses were by three points or fewer. Kareem was third in the NBA in scoring while Bob Dandridge finished 18th with a 19.9 point per game clip.

On June 16, 1975 the Bucks executed one of the most momentous trades in pro basketball history by sending Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and reserve center Walt Welsey to the Los Angeles Lakers in exchange for center Elmore Smith, guard Brian Winters, and two All-American rookies, David Meyers and Junior Bridgeman. The Milwaukee Bucks entered the 1975-76 season with a new, young running team, perhaps the youngest in the NBA.

Jon McGlocklin

The young talent faltered at first, losing the first five games of the season before posting a win over Detroit on November 4, 1975. As the season progressed, all four players obtained from Los Angeles for Abdul-Jabbar proved to make important contributions. Smith became a consistent performer at center, leading the team in rebounding during the season with a 11.4 per game average. Brian Winters put his marksmanship to work to average over 18 points per game and make the NBA West All Stars. Winters started in all 78 games he played. Bridgeman played both guard and forward well, started in 19 games and averaged over 20 minutes per game. Meyers showed outstanding rebound potential, banging the boards hard in 34 starts at the strong forward slot. Slowed by a knee injury, he rallied to have an outstanding playoff series against Detroit.

The Bucks posted a 38-44 record in 1975-76, identical to that achieved by the Los Angeles Lakers and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. Bob Dandridge was named to the NBA West All Stars and had his best season ever, averaging 21.5 points per game while ranking among the top ten scorers in the league. The Bucks finished first in the Midwest Division for the fifth time in eight seasons. The Milwaukeeans were beat in the first round of the best-of-three playoff series 2-1 by Detroit. Coach Larry Costello signed a new two year pact just prior to the playoffs. In the 1976 college draft the Bucks selected Indiana All American and U.S. Olympian Quinn Buckner in the first round.

Last season saw a major shakeup within the organization. Just 18 games into the season Larry Costello resigned as Head Coach and Don Nelson took over the reigns. Other changes came about involving the club's management structure. A group headed by James F. Fitzgerald, William J. Blake, and J. P. Cullen and Son Corporation purchased 361,000 outstanding shares of Milwaukee Professional Sports and Services common stock. Mr. Fitzgerald became Chairman of the Board and President of the corporation. Wayne Embry, formerly General Manager of the club, became a consultant thus relinquishing his duties on a day-to-day basis. What was formerly Embry's duties were then split between Don Nelson who handles player personnel matters and John Steinmiller who was promoted to Director of Business Operations in charge of the day-to-day functions of the club. On the court Bob Dandridge turned in a solid performance averaging 20.8 points over the season. Brian Winters and Junior Bridgeman also averaged in double figures as did Swen Nater who was traded to Cleveland which gave Milwaukee the first round draft choice they used to obtain Marques Johnson. Record-wise the 1976-77 season was a meager 30 wins against 52 losses. But to offset that mark was perhaps the best draft by any professional team in history. Behind the direction of Rick Sund, Don Nelson, and Wayne Embry the club drafted and subsequently signed three first round choices in Kent Benson, Marques Johnson, and Ernie Grunfeld. John Killilea, once a scout for the Bucks and more recently assistant coach of the Boston Celtics, joined Don Nelson in the coaching ranks as assistant coach and assistant Director of Player Personnel.

LAST SEASON

The '77-'78 Bucks finished the regular season with a 44-38 record just one game ahead of the Golden State Warriors who lost their last game of the season to Seattle giving the Bucks the sixth and final playoff berth in the Western Conference ... the Bucks finished 28-13 at home, 16-25 on the road, and 8-1 in overtime ... the 44-38 finish was the best record since 1973-74 for the Bucks (59-23) ... it ranks as the sixth best in their history ... the Bucks all time record is 481-339 (.587%) going into the '78-'79 season ... Don Nelson's coaching record is 71-75 (.486%) ... the Bucks set an all time NBA record by winning eight overtime games last season topping the record of seven won by Los Angeles (1961-62), Boston (1958-59), and New York (1955-56 and 1949-50) ... the Bucks lost to Boston 127-119 on November 11 in overtime, then won their next eight straight OT games including three straight wins in three games (5 nights) ... they set a club record for overtime games but not an NBA record — that record is 13 by the 1950-51 Knicks (they won six) ... the Bucks all time overtime record of 25-11 is among the best in NBA history ... the Bucks set some other records last season, not all of them positive ... the quick youngsters set a club record with 867 steals and 2,306 assists along with a record 1,239 offensive rebounds ... unfortunately the Bucks set an all time low for defensive rebounds (2,480 to 2,519) thus setting a club record low of 3,719 rebounds ... the team shooting average of .482% was the best in four years, but not good enough to top the club and NBA record of .509% ... the Bucks struggled at the free throw line and finished with a club low of .726% ... through it all the most impressive record could most likely be the all time club highs of 435,057 or 97% capacity at the gate ... that marked the third year in the last four that the Bucks topped 400,000 ... the Bucks averaged 10,711.15 fans (.97012%) barely over the previous record averages of 10,610.55 and .97006% ... if the Bucks had 24 less fans, they wouldn't have set those percentage records ... the opponents also set their share of records last year ... they set records for most assists (2,248), steals (790), blocked shots (468), and shooting (.481%) ... Milwaukee won 17 of their last 20 home games ... the young Bucks won nine of their last thirteen games and finished six games over .500 — the most they were over .500 all season. In the playoffs Milwaukee was 5-4 advancing to the quarterfinals before being stopped by the Denver Nuggets in the seventh game at McNichols ... the Bucks swept Phoenix 2-0 in the qualifying round ... the Bucks used blistering .582% shooting to beat the Suns in the first game 111-103 ... the Bucks shot .538% and grabbed 48.0 rebounds in the two games ... the Suns however, managed to shoot only .429% and grab 39.0 rebounds as they were upset by the Bucks ... some people had picked Phoenix to win the championship ... overall in the playoffs, Milwaukee shot .504%, grabbed 43.6 rebounds and averaged 102.4 points ... after Denver had won the first two games in Denver, Milwaukee came back to win three of the next four before losing 116-110 in the final game ... the high point of the series was when the Bucks demolished Denver 143-112 in the third game in Milwaukee ... the Bucks set 13 records in that game ... five points was the final margin in the fifth game with Milwaukee on top 117-112 while six points separated the teams in the seventh game ... all the rest of the games were decided by 14 or more points ... Denver won two games by 16 points, one by 14, while the explosive Bucks won the third game by 31 points and the sixth by 28 points ... Denver averaged 48.9 rebounds to the Bucks average of 42.3 — probably the most decisive statistic ... the Bucks shot .496% against the Nuggets .454% ... that was the Bucks seventh appearance in post-season play in 10 years of existence ... the Bucks all-time record in the playoffs is now 42-27 (.609%) the eighth highest amount of playoff wins of any team in the NBA ... 5 wins is the fourth highest amount of wins in the playoffs ever for the Bucks.

Jim Fitzgerald
Chairman of the Board and President

The year is 1948. A young man just back from military service is determined to make his mark in the business world. It started out on a small scale with the development of Shell service stations on tracts of land acquired. That spread to the development of shopping centers, Holiday Inns, and other forms of land development.

Now, thirty years later, the business card reads: James F. Fitzgerald—Main Man. The card exemplifies what Fitzgerald has accomplished along with his partners. The partners were those who helped in that land development thirty years ago. Today, Fitzgerald and his partners own 65 percent of the Bucks stock.

The acquisition of that stock came about through another area of interest of Fitzgerald . . . cable television.

In 1965 Fitzgerald and his group (some of whom now comprise the Board of Directors of Milwaukee Professional Sports and Services, the parent company of the Milwaukee Bucks) started Total TV in Janesville, Wisconsin. The group now has 12 cable television systems in Wisconsin, Illinois, and Florida. "In 1973, we (Total TV) wanted to expand," Fitzgerald explains. "What we needed was more money. I owned a few shares in Milwaukee Professional Sports and Services, and was aware that they had a lot of cash on hand."

That idea blossomed when Milwaukee Pro purchased one-fourth of Total TV's 200,000 shares and offered Fitzgerald a seat on the Board of Directors. From that vantage point, Fitzgerald, along with his partners, continuously acquired stock in Milwaukee Pro to the point where they had controlling interests.

As soon as he took over the Bucks in October of 1976, Fitzgerald started his move to mold the franchise into his kind of business.

The Bucks now have a team psychologist, a team dietician, and an artist-in-residence. Fitzgerald likes to talk about the psychologist, J. P. Cleaver, and the role he plays in the Bucks' organization.

"You can gather a lot of superstars together," Fitzgerald noted, "but that doesn't guarantee you a winner. What we feel is important is that the players we have play as a team; that they are compatible. All the players we now have were evaluated by Cleaver and they appear to "jell" well together."

Fitzgerald, a self-proclaimed "family man," likes to think of the Bucks as one big happy family. He and his wife, Marilyn, attend all Bucks home games and many on the road. "She likes the Bucks as much as I do," Fitzgerald said. "I guess we both think of them as a part of our family."

Fitzgerald's children (he has six) are spread around the country and range in age from 15 to 27. Son Mike lives in Beloit and operates a partnership in a sporting goods concern. Marcia is married and lives in Madison; Brian lives in Columbia, Missouri; James Jr. recently graduated from St. Regis College in Denver; Caroline attends Fenster School in Tucson, Arizona, and Ellen goes to Vanguard School in Lake Wales, Florida.

With all that he has accomplished with his family and friends in the past thirty years, what goals are there left for Jim Fitzgerald?

Other than the obvious of winning a World Championship the answer is, "Get a new arena." The Bucks signed a new five year agreement to play in Milwaukee Arena through the 1982-83 campaign during the off season, but most certainly will need more than the present 10,938 seats to operate in the black five years down the road.

Don Nelson — Head Coach — Director of Player Personnel

Shooting baskets in a chicken yard isn't the usual way to start a career.

But that's where it all began for Don Nelson, Head Coach and Director of Player Personnel for the Milwaukee Bucks, now in his third season as a head coach in the NBA.

Nelson wound up an illustrious 14 year pro basketball career at the close of the 1975-76 season. He ended his playing days with the Boston Celtics, with whom he had spent 11 years playing on five NBA Title teams and en route playing 465 consecutive games. His career, during which he achieved the 10,000 point plateau, began with the Chicago Zephyrs (one season) and moved on to Los Angeles (two seasons) before becoming a part of the Celtic tradition during the 1965-66 season.

"My dad put up a hoop on the corn cob shed," recalls Nelson, "but I wasn't really interested. Then my uncle put up a tire and I'd shoot at that. Later, my dad put up another hoop, but he put it in the chicken yard. The ball got pretty messy and kept sticking to my hands. I didn't like that."

The Nelson family moved to Rock Island, Illinois, where the 6' 5" youngster made all-state. He was sought after by many colleges, and chose Iowa where he became an All-Big Ten star his last two seasons.

A college classmate of Nelson's recounts the time the entire Iowa squad, aside from Nelson, flunked out at mid-semester. Not long after that someone scheduled a basketball game and nobody came . . . nobody except the other team and Don Nelson. The coach filled the empty uniforms with patchwork players comparable to the Bad News Bears on hardwood. Iowa did all right for themselves, with Don Nelson doing most of the work. And then one night Ohio State came to town, led by Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek.

The number one ranked Buckeyes considered Iowa a real cupcake. But as the seconds ticked away Iowa was down by only one. Ohio inbounded the ball only to have a turnover forced by Nelson. With the whole Ohio State team Lucas, Havlicek, the coach, the bench, the cheerleaders—a teammate was forced to shoot. It hit the rim. But as the rebound came down, Don Nelson went up. Up above Jerry Lucas, up above John Havlicek, up above everyone. He caught the ball with one hand, put it back again, and then stood back and watched as it started bouncing and rolling on the rim.

The fieldhouse was totally quiet. The only thing that was heard was the buzzer going off. A stunned crowd watched, two coaches began to pray, and the crazy ball just kept going round and round.

The ball finally fell off, giving the game to Ohio State, but no one was too disappointed.

Nelson didn't quit there. He went on to outplay everyone in the Big Ten the rest of that year and all the next, collecting All American honors in the process.

Now it's a different story. After 16 campaigns in the NBA as both player and coach, Nelson visibly shows the effects. If the light strikes at an odd angle, the mop of blond hair seems to be turning gently to grey. The eyes look hollow and tired up close, as though too many crazed overtime games (the Bucks won eight of nine overtime games last season) and two-point decisions (the Bucks won six of seven two point games last season) are burning out the circuitry. Two seasons of coaching 24-year-old basketball players can do that to a man.

"It's pretty draining on you," said Nellie, as he is known to his friends. "It's harder in almost every aspect than I'd thought."

"We struggled all season . . . never really had a lock on a playoff berth. There was always somebody. Whether it was Detroit, Chicago, or Golden State, they all took a pass at us. Then, the final day, when Golden State had to lose at Seattle for us to qualify. That was worse than sitting on the bench. It was completely out of our hands. Knowing we'd had such a good season, and . . ."

Don Nelson smiles. The rest is all history, and you can recite it as well as he can. How the Warriors lost that game at Seattle. How the young Milwaukee Bucks ('Green and Growing') found themselves alive and paired with Phoenix, Sports Illustrated's pick to win it all, in the mini-series.

How Marques Johnson had outplayed Walter Davis. How Brian Winters had been incredible. How the Bucks had ushered the Suns out into the street in four days.

And how, after two bad beatings at Denver, Milwaukee came back to the Arena and rolled up an incredible 141 points to set a wealth of NBA playoff records (13 to be exact). And how the Bucks stayed visible and hostile, taking Denver right down to the seventh game of the series only to bow out by six points in Denver.

Through it all, Nelson's touch is good for the Bucks. As one sportswriter wrote prior to last season, "By all logic, it would be unrealistic to expect the Milwaukee Bucks to win more than they lose in the season ahead." Indeed, even the most optimistic of Bucks fans could have easily adopted that thought. But Nelson had a solid foundation from which to build around and a good memory.

"When I was playing," he said, "I always came in early and talked philosophies and game situations with Red (Auerbach). I don't even know if he was aware of what he was doing for me. But I probably picked up more things from Auerbach than anybody else during my 14 years in the league."

And he implemented them all here. Nellie ran a tough training camp, because Auerbach always had, and he knew its value. "Same philosophy," Nelson figured. "We wanted to be able to have a good start, to win games just because we were in better condition. And last year (6-4) we did."

Nellie brought in Boston assistant John Killilea to teach aggressive defense while he installed a fast break. He stressed the idea of role players, of bringing good shooters off the bench, of encouraging team meetings and constructive feedback.

It was a grinder throughout, especially down the stretch, but the long hours of hard work paid off. Nellie swallowed gallons of coffee, relied heavily on Killilea to handle the intricacies of the game, and dealt with his team the way he knew best . . . informally, personally, instinctively.

"I think it's always tough to evaluate yourself," says Nelson now. "So whether I'm a good coach or a bad coach, I don't know. I do know I'm a fair coach. I think I'm as fair and open as a coach can be."

Nellie is no Gene Shue or Jack Ramsay, with a thick loose-leaf binder or a clock-work system. He will tell you that he is still learning, still winging it in a number of areas. Mostly, what he has is a bunch of young guys willing to work, an easy going style, an excellent assistant coach, and an incomparable background.

During the off season, Nellie was present on the sidelines as the summer version of the Milwaukee Bucks participated in the Southern California Summer League. He also operated summer basketball camps in the east and spent some well deserved time with his family. The Nelson family includes wife Sharon and four children, Julie 17, Donn 16, Christy 15, and Kathy 11. They reside in Brookfield.

John Killilea — Assistant Coach and Assistant Director of Player Personnel

John Killilea is the assistant coach and assistant director of player personnel of the Milwaukee Bucks as the title above expouses. If his career had broken differently in the last two years, he could be head coach of the Bucks, or head coach of the Boston Celtics, right now.

When Larry Costello (now the head coach of the Chicago Bulls) resigned in November of 1976 as head coach of the Bucks, Don Nelson, then the Bucks assistant coach and only one season off the playing floor, was offered the job.

Nelson said he was flattered by the offer, but that if the Bucks were smart they would hire Killilea, then the Celtics assistant coach, and allow Nelson to stay on as Killilea's assistant.

As things turned out, Nelson was persuaded to take the head coaching job and Killilea joined him following the season as assistant.

"The two main reasons I came to the Bucks," said Killilea, "were because it involved a lot more money and because it offered me a lot more time to stay at home with my family. I was always on the road scouting for the Celtics, and my family went through a lot.

"Here, Rick Sund does most of our college scouting and some of the scouting of the other NBA teams. I only scout other teams on off days. When Nellie offered me the job, he told me he wanted me at every practice and game—that's great," continued Killilea.

But getting back to basics is what John Killilea is all about. The man knows his X's and O's. "The basic fundamentals of basketball are the same on any level," said Killilea, who coached high school basketball in Massachusetts. "I'm very proud of my high school background. Fundamentals are so important even in the pros, and so many players come out of college, where they were the star, not knowing how to play defense and play without the ball.

"And when it comes to teaching, a great many pros are so talented that it is hard for them to break their talents down and explain them to untalented people. It's hard for super talented people to go back to the basics.

"Now, being a head coach in the pros is a very psychological job, and any respect a coach has as a former player is a great aid. But more and more former pro players, like Billy Cunningham, Jerry West, and Willis Reed, are hiring college coaches as assistants. And when a college coach like John MacLeod gets a pro job, he hires a former pro like Al Bianchi."

This is actually Killilea's second stint with the Bucks. A 1952 graduate of Boston University, Killilea scouted for Milwaukee before his five-year stint with the Celtics.

John runs basketball camps in Maine and Massachusetts during the summer months where he once coached state high school championship teams. He also worked daily with the Bucks draftees and free agents in the Southern California Summer Basketball League in Los Angeles.

John and his wife Eli are the parents of Kevin 19, Richie 16, Tanja 11, and Lee 10, and live in Brookfield.

Tony Spino — Trainer

Tony Spino handles a multitude of jobs under his title of team trainer. Primarily his main concerns are for the well being of the players and attending to their day-to-day needs where minor injuries are concerned. He also handles player conditioning and preventive treatment, taping, and on-the-bench game duties.

Spino performs double duty as the club's traveling secretary, making travel arrangements and accommodations for the Bucks traveling party.

Originally from Morristown, New Jersey, Tony attended Pikeville College in Kentucky and Glendale Junior College in California before graduating in 1973 from UCLA. Tony honed his training skills as chief assistant to renowned trainer Ducky Drake for several seasons.

A resident of suburban Brown Deer, Tony and his wife Sandy spend much of the off-season traveling to both coasts. Sandy, a graduate of Cal State University at Northridge, teaches first grade in Brown Deer.

Wayne Embry
Vice President and Consultant

Wayne Embry is a charter member of the Bucks organization since joining the club via the expansion draft in 1968. The five-time NBA All-Star served as the team's first captain and starting center. As a pro player, he labored in the pivot for eleven seasons and was a member of Boston's 1967-68 NBA title team of which Don Nelson was also a member.

Embry, 41, became general manager of the Bucks after his playing days, following a year as director of recreation in Boston and two years as player personnel director for the Bucks.

While not presently involved on a day to day basis, Wayne's basketball knowledge, player evaluation talents, and NBA contacts add to the front office savvy the Bucks organization possesses.

An active member of the Milwaukee community as well as charitable and service organizations nationally, Embry has been honored time and again by his peers.

Presently in his 21st year of professional basketball involvement, the Miami (Ohio) University graduate left his full time position with the Bucks to direct a management corporation with partner Sherman Claypool. The corporation controls three area McDonald's restaurants including their most recent addition adjacent to the Arena at the State Street entrance.

The Embry family consist of wife Terri, daughters Debbie 18, Jill 17, and Wayne Jr. 15.

John Steinmiller
Director of Business Operations

There exist two phases in professional basketball. One, obviously is the game itself. The second is the business end of the operation, for which John Steinmiller is responsible in the Bucks organization.

Steinmiller is entering his eighth full season with the Bucks and is in the second season of splitting the duties of what were once the general manager's with Don Nelson. John's authority and responsibility extend over the daily business activities of the club while also supervising and directing the Bucks staff. He formulates long range planning, while remaining immediately responsible for the public relations and marketing functions of the club.

John worked for the Bucks on a part time basis while attending Marquette University where he served as president of the student body his senior year. After graduating from Marquette in 1970 with a B.A. in journalism, John joined the club on a full-time basis in January of 1971 as administrative assistant for the Bucks' summer camps, with additional duties in the ticket and promotional areas.

Aside from the long hours and pressure situations of the NBA, Steinmiller is also secretary-treasurer of the Milwaukee Athletes Against Childhood Cancer (MACC) Fund, and a member of the Sales and Marketing Executives, and Kiwanis organizations in Milwaukee. Active in the Big Brother program he puts in numerous speaking engagements at Milwaukee area father and son banquets, career day programs, and other sports-oriented award dinners.

A native of Mt. Prospect, Illinois, John attended St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights. He now resides on Milwaukee's east side.

Rick Sund — Administrative Assistant

As an administrative assistant with the Bucks, Rick Sund's primary responsibilities lie in the area of scouting. Presently in his fifth season with the club, Sund concentrates mainly on the pool of talent on the college level from November through June, scouting, evaluating, and compiling information on the top college prospects in the country. After compiling the information, he assembles a volume of information on which the Bucks base their drafting decisions. Rick also scouts other NBA clubs early in the season while directing the Bucks' two part-time east and west coast scouts.

Sund, 27, starred in basketball and football at Northwestern University and captained the Wildcat cagers in 1972-73. A political science major at Northwestern, Sund went on to earn a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University. Rick is married to the former Lea Evenson. The couple resides in suburban Shorewood.

Ron Blomberg — Administrative Assistant

Ron Blomberg is the director of the Milwaukee Bucks Summer Basketball Camp program, a unique basketball education division of Milwaukee Professional Sports and Services that operates week-long, day and boarding camps for young players aged 8-18.

Nicknamed "The Professor" several years ago while performing the color commentary for the Bucks radio broadcasts, Ron coached on the high school level in Wisconsin for 21 years and returned to the coaching ranks this season as the new head coach at Brookfield Central High School for the second time in his career.

Ron pioneered the summer basketball camp program in Wisconsin. His thorough understanding of the game coupled with his teaching talents are naturals for the camp program, which drew over 4,000 youngsters to Bucks' summer camps throughout the Midwest last summer.

Ron played varsity basketball at the University of Wisconsin for three seasons and coached championship teams at Peshtigo, and Wayland Academy, as well as Brookfield Central.

Ron and his wife LaVerne are the parents of two sons and two daughters and live in suburban Brookfield.

Fr. Gene Jakubek, S.J. — Chaplain

Fr. Gene Jakubek, S.J., is presently in his third season as the Milwaukee Bucks team chaplain. Known throughout the Midwest as the TV priest, Fr. Gene has had his own weekly TV series since 1968. The show, "The Answer is Love" is seen locally on WITI-TV Channel 6.

"It's primarily a consulting job more than anything," Father Gene said. "It's one of those businesses where a man who does a lot of consulting like I do, can be a lot of help to a young team like this. I just try and help the fellas keep their heads on straight. It's a job I appreciate," he continued. "I enjoy relating to the players as a . . . well, almost like a big brother. I've dealt with a lot of athletes in my life and these men are outstanding, beautiful guys, good kids."

Father Gene has been the focus of features in the New York Times and People Magazine. His work has been honored often. He has received the National Ten Commandments Award of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, been named Man of the Year by the Polish National Alliance, and has received dozens of awards from both civic and religious organizations.

Author of four books, several pamphlets, and scores of magazine and newspaper articles, Father Gene is the galloping Jesuit, much in demand as a speaker in both one-to-one and group situations.

Eddie Doucette — Voice of the Bucks

Eddie Doucette, along with Wayne Embry and Jon McGlocklin, is a charter member of the Milwaukee Bucks organization. For the eleventh straight season, Fast Eddie will be calling the shots with his rapid-fire, uncanny ability to describe the fast-paced action of NBA basketball.

Doucette has objectives in mind while broadcasting Bucks' games. "I've got three things to do. I try to put excitement into the broadcast. I try to put people in the seats, and I try to report objectively as I can—but with those other things in mind," said Eddie.

Doucette is regarded by his peers as technically one of the best play-by-play men in the country. Eddie has coined such phrases as sky hook, yo-yo dribble, and rainbow jumper, just to name a few.

Off the hardwood, Doucette keeps busy. This past summer he was part of the broadcast team for forty Cleveland Indians televised games. In the past he's called Milwaukee Brewers games on both radio and TV, football bowl games, All-Star events, and along with McGlocklin has co-hosted a special television series featuring all-sports competition between Milwaukee area prep standouts. Doucette also hosts his own commentary show on WTMJ radio heard periodically throughout the day. The Wisconsin Sportscaster of the Year Award was bestowed upon him in 1970.

Doucette will be joined courtside behind the mike by former Bucks All-Star Jon McGlocklin at all home games and all Channel 18 telecasts. Once again WTMJ radio (620 am) will broadcast all Milwaukee Bucks home and away games. The NBC radio affiliate feeds Doucette's stylized version to a statewide network of over twenty stations throughout Wisconsin and upper Michigan. Telecasts of fifteen road games will once again originate through WVTM-TV, Channel 18 in Milwaukee. The telecasts are fed to a network of cable stations covering the primary television markets in Wisconsin.

Eddie, his wife Karen, and their two sons, six-year-old Brett and three-year-old Cory reside in Brookfield.

Jon McGlocklin — Administrative Assistant

Only two players remain with the Milwaukee Bucks organization since the club's inception in 1968. Jon McGlocklin is one of those two.

Known on the court for his patented jumpshot, all-out hustle, and competitive spirit, McGlocklin holds the club's career record for games played (595), was the first Buck ever to don an All-Star uniform (1969), and was a vital cog on the NBA championship squad of 1971.

Today, Jon's capacity with the Bucks is as administrative assistant, with duties encompassing community relations, promotions, and broadcasting. "Moose," as he was known during his playing days, provides color commentary on the Bucks radio and television broadcasts. During last season, the CBS television network hired McGlocklin as an on-the-air analyst for their game of the week telecasts.

Originally drafted in 1965 by Cincinnati after an outstanding collegiate career at Indiana, John spent two seasons with the Royals before a one year stint in San Diego. The final eight years of his eleven year NBA career were spent here in Milwaukee.

Statistically, Jon carried an eight year scoring average of 12.5 points with the Bucks. His remarkable .505 field goal percentage still ranks among the top twenty all-time field goal shooters in NBA history.

Away from the hardwood, Jon is president of the Milwaukee Athletes Against Childhood Cancer (MACC) Fund. A speaker much in demand at clinics, youth gatherings, church affairs, and father-son nights, McGlocklin proved he still possesses his shooting touch by connecting on thirty consecutive jump shots from the top of the key during a clinic for hearing impaired youngsters. Jon is also on the board of the Wisconsin Easter Seal Foundation, Athletes for Youth, and the Milwaukee Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

A native of Franklin, Indiana, Jon and his wife Pam now make their home in suburban Greendale with their children, Shannon (9) and Meghan (3½). He owns and operates Jon McGlocklin's Carpet Court, a floor covering store located in Cudahy.

Bea Westfahl — Ticket Manager

A myriad of duties come under the direction of the ticket manager. Bea Westfahl directs the entire ticket operation, including processing season tickets, over the counter, mail order, phone, and group orders as well as running the computerized Ticketron outlets. It is no small task to account for the nearly one half million tickets that must be processed through the ticket office and it is Mrs. Westfahl's prime responsibility to see that the operation runs smoothly. Formerly Mrs. Westfahl worked for the State of Wisconsin at State Fair Park before joining the organization in 1969. Originally from West Allis, she and her husband, Don, a Milwaukee fireman, are the parents of three sons. Jeff, 25; Steve, 23; and Rick, 21 comprise the Westfahl family. The entire family enjoys the off-season boating, water skiing, and all the other recreational activities that surround summer cottage life in Wisconsin.

Chuck Reupert — Controller

Chuck Reupert likes to see things in black and white. In his business, red is the color everyone avoids. Chuck handles the day-to-day financial affairs for the Bucks and is responsible for the many business details that enter into the operation of a pro sports franchise. Chuck joined the Bucks staff in February of 1971 after being plant accountant for a local manufacturing firm for ten years. A graduate of Boys Tech and the University of Wisconsin, he served as a 3rd officer in the U.S. Maritime Service during World War II and was an infantry squad leader in Korea. An experienced sports car builder and driver, Chuck now races under the Milwaukee Bucks banner in a car finished to a "T" with the Bucks' logo. Chuck and his wife Sharon are the parents of 22 year old twin sons and reside in Germantown.

Bill King II — Publicity Director

Entering his second season of life in the NBA, Bill at 23, is the youngest publicist in pro sports. A 1976 graduate of Morris Harvey College in Charleston, West Virginia, Bill was the youngest full-time Sports Information Director in the nation while garnering honors as All-Conference SID and Outstanding Statistician in West Virginia. A native of Neptune City, New Jersey, he was heavily involved in a host of extracurricular activities at Neptune High School. King honed his statistical skills as publicist and statistician for a summer basketball league on the Jersey Shore where he was tagged with the title "Superstat" by a local sportscaster. King came to the Bucks after serving a brief stint in the promotions department of Tulane University in New Orleans. With the Bucks, Bill is responsible for publicity, media relations, publications, statistics, and the coordination of national and local media information and facilities at all Bucks games. An avid body surfer, he developed a passion for jet skiing over the summer.

Jim Irwin

When the Bucks are on television, WTMJ radio's Jim Irwin slides behind the microphone to provide the play-by-play. For WTMJ Jim performs a multitude of duties which include six radio shows and one evening newscast on WTMJ-TV. His morning "Viewpoint" heard at 7:45 a.m. on WTMJ radio is a provocative commentary on assorted sports topics.

A former Wisconsin Sportscaster of the Year in 1975, Jim has been nominated for that prestigious award the last nine years. In addition to his duties with the Bucks and WTMJ, Irwin also handles the play-by-play for the Green Bay Packers and the University of Wisconsin football and basketball.

A graduate of the University of Missouri, Jim served with the Army in Korea. His wife Gloria (they were childhood sweethearts) writes documentaries for Channel 10 in Milwaukee. The couple has two children; 14 year old Anne, a freshman at Whitefish Bay High School, and 12 year old Jay, in the sixth grade at Henry Clay Elementary School.

'77-'78 Regular Season: did more for the team than any statistical evaluation could ever hope to show ... his 9.3 scoring average, 5.6 assist average, and 2.29 steal average don't effectively prove his worth to the club ... "Q.B.", the Bucks quarterback, was the only Buck to start all 82 games and was one of four Bucks — a new record — to appear in every game ... one of the league's leading theft artists, fell four short of tying his Bucks' record of 192 steals in a season ... improved shooting average from .434% in '76-77 to .468% in '77-78 ... collected at least one assist in all but one game last year ... averaged 5.8 assists since the All-Star break with 8.0 assists in the last five games of the season ... led the Bucks with six disqualifications via the personal foul route.

'78 Playoffs: scored well in the playoffs — averaged 11.2 points and shot exactly 50% ... the playmaker also averaged 6.9 assists and 2.0 steals ... in his first playoff appearance, Buckner started all nine games (meaning he started all 91 Bucks games during the course of the season) and averaged 28.6 minutes ... Buckner collected 10 assists in two games ... in the Bucks third game massacre against Denver, Buckner scored 14 points on 7 of 12 shooting, collected 8 assists and 3 steals ... Buckner scored in double figures in seven games.

High School: All-American in both basketball and football at Thornridge-Dolton High School ... was a vital cog on two title squads ... never played on a losing team in high school.

College: split athletic endeavors during freshman and sophomore campaigns between football and basketball at Indiana ... along with Kent Benson led the Hoosiers to the NCAA Championship title in 1976 ... named to several All-American teams and All Big Ten squad senior year at Indiana ... led all Big Ten guards in field goal percentage as a junior (56%) ... National Honor Society ... started all four seasons ... co-captained Indiana and another championship squad, the United States title team in the Montreal Olympics which finished 6-0 ... played with Ernie Grunfeld at the Olympiad ... captained the U.S. World Games team in 1973, visited China as a member of an All-Star team in 1973 ... played on U.S. team in six game Russian series in 1974.

Personal: married during last season, wife's name is Rhonda ... travels extensively during the off-season ... toured Liberia, Kenya, and Guinea on a Peace Corps good will trip two summers ago with David Thompson and Monte Towe ... went to Hawaii with the Bridgemen for the NBA Player's Association meetings last summer ... does numerous personal appearances whenever his schedule will allow.

'77-'78 Regular Season: spent much of last season in the shadow of the Bucks other outstanding forwards . . . in his only start of the year, a game where both Meyers and Johnson were out, Grunfeld scored a career high 22 points, collected eight assists, seven rebounds, and hit 7 of 14 shots to lead the Bucks over the Phoenix Suns . . . hit .443% of his shots and .657% of his free throws . . . shot 143 free throws last year — quite a few for someone who saw only 17.3 minutes of playing time a game . . . Grunfeld averaged 2.0 assists, 6.8 points, and 2.7 rebounds — or, 19.1 points, 5.5 assists, and 7.4 rebounds projected over 48 minutes.

'78 Playoffs: didn't play against Phoenix, but appeared in all seven games against Denver . . . in the fourth game against the Nuggets, in a game where Milwaukee shot only .426% that would have been worse had it not been for a 75% fourth quarter, Grunfeld was about the only Buck to shoot well — he hit 6 of 8 shots and scored 12 points in 23 minutes . . . also added 5 assists in that game . . . in the sixth game, Ernie scored 10 more points in a Bucks loss . . . overall, the rookie forward hit .531% of his field goals and 2.5 assists in 11.0 minutes . . . his 5.6 point average was third highest coming off the bench for the Bucks.

High School: was the first prep player ever chosen for the U.S. team in the Maccabiah Games in Israel . . . while at Forest Hills High toured Europe one summer with the U.S. international team.

College: named to six All-American teams his senior year at Tennessee . . . also earned an Olympic gold medal from the Montreal games as he teamed with Quinn Buckner . . . averaged 22.3 points and 6.6 rebounds over a four year span for the Vols and is their all time leading scorer with 2,249 points . . . the Bucks half of the "Ernie and Bernie Show" was first team ALL-SEC four years as well as conference scoring champ his junior year and runner-up his sophomore and senior seasons . . . split playing time at Tennessee between forward and guard position . . . played for the U.S. team that won the Pan-Am basketball crown in Mexico City in 1975.

Personal: a naturalized United States citizen from Romania . . . a bachelor . . . conducted a basketball camp under his name at Maryville College in Tennessee for one month during the off-season . . . spent time with the Bucks in the Southern California Summer Basketball League and won the scoring title with a 30.1 average.

Weight : 225
Birthdate : June 10, 1950
Birthplace : Stockton, California
High School : Edison High School, Stockton, CA
College : University of Pacific '72
When Drafted : Second round by Houston 1972
How Acquired : From Buffalo (nee San Diego)
September 2, 1977 for first round draft choice in 1979 or 1980
Pro Experience: Currently in seventh NBA season
Residence : Stockton, California

'77-'78 Regular Season: known as "tall silence" to his teammates — his performance last year was vital in the Bucks bid for the playoffs . . . in his own quiet way, Gianelli filled the center slot having started at the post the last 52 games of the season . . . his averages of 9.3 points and 7.0 rebounds since joining the starting lineup are not overly impressive but are overshadowed by the excellent job he did of containing opposing centers . . . J.G. was one of four iron men on the Bucks . . . finished with 8.5 points and 6.2 rebounds as final averages . . . Gianelli also shot .488% . . . the Bucks were 32-28 (.533%) with Gianelli in the starting lineup . . . John led the Bucks in rebounding 12 times . . . averaged 6.7 rebounds and 7.9 points since the All-Star break . . . had his third best year, statistically, in his six year career.

'78 Playoffs: had the tough job of containing Alvan Adams and Dan Issel in the playoffs . . . Gianelli's super performance in the second game against Phoenix was the key to the Bucks success . . . Gianelli scored 12 points and grabbed 13 rebounds and blocked an important shot down the stretch . . . Gianelli averaged 7.8 points and 6.4 rebounds overall . . . J.G. averaged 7.7 points and 6.0 rebounds against Denver, while Issel averaged 18.0 points and 11.0 rebounds . . . the Bucks won both games that Issel was held under 20 points and 10 rebounds with Gianelli's defense being the key . . . the pivotman started all nine games for the Bucks and averaged 32.2 minutes . . . John scored in double figures in four games and grabbed ten or more rebounds in two games — the Bucks won all those games he scored 10 or more points and also won the two games he was a double figure rebounder in . . . shot .424% in the playoffs.

College: averaged 22 points and 18 rebounds his senior year at Pacific . . . stats ranked second best in the nation at the time and earned him MVP honors in the West Coast Conference . . . completed his college career with school records in scoring, field goal production, and shooting percentage (a healthy .525%) and hit a collegiate peak with 33 points and 32 rebounds against the University of Nevada at Reno.

Personal: John and his wife Sharon reside in Shorewood during the season . . . in the off-season the couple returns to the west coast . . . they purchased a cabin in the California mountains which they plan to renovate and reside in during the summer months.

Lloyd Walton

LLOYD WALTON 11

Position : Guard
Height : 6'0"
Weight : 160
Birthdate : November 23, 1953
Birthplace : Chicago, Illinois
High School : Mt. Carmel, Chicago, IL
College : Marquette University '76
When Drafted : Third round by Milwaukee in 1976
How Acquired : 1976 College draft
Pro Experience : Currently in third NBA season
Residence : Milwaukee, Wisconsin

'77-'78 Regular Season: enjoyed great improvement last season ... provided a spark when the Bucks needed it ... the 6' guard averaged 3.3 assists in only 16.6 minutes — that's an assist every 5.0 minutes — or 9.6 over 48 minutes ... Lloyd had 21 games of five or more assists and 30 of four or more — including a high of 8 four times ... Don Nelson liked to rely on Walton to move the Bucks offense when stagnant ... the Bucks were 15-6 (.714%) in games "Lucky" collected five or more assists ... Walton collects 2.39 assists for every turnover — the closest to that on the team is Buckner's 2.00:1 ratio and Winters' 1.67:1.

'78 Playoffs: set a playoff career high with 11 assists (also tops regular season high) in the third game against Denver ... his nine assists in one quarter is an NBA record ... overall, the little man averaged 4.1 assists and 4.7 points ... Walton averaged 4.4 points and 5.4 against the Nuggets ... Walton averaged only 13.8 minutes in the playoffs ... "Lucky's" 11 assists in 19 minutes against the Nuggets projects to 27.8 over 48 minutes ... Walton also scored nine points in that game meaning he participated in the scoring of 31 points in 19 minutes — that's 78.3 points projected over 48 minutes ... Lloyd also sparked the Bucks with 11 points in 14 minutes in the fifth game against Denver ... overall, Walton's projected points were 15.4 and projected assists were 14.3 over 48 minutes — a total point production of 44.1 projected over 48 minutes ... only a 47.2 point production by Winters was better ... this was Lloyd's first playoff appearance.

High School: set Mt. Carmel High School record for points in a single game (43).

Junior College: averaged 19.3 points at Moberly Junior College.

College: MVP on Marquette's '76 team ... co-captained the Warriors to 27-2 NCAA semi-final season his senior year ... 1006 career points at Marquette place him 14th on the all-time scoring list ... 480 assists in three seasons make him the all-time leader in that department ... named to Independent All-American team in '76 as well as Basketball Weekly's All-American roster ... AP and UPI Honorable Mention All-American teams ... invited to U.S. Olympic team trials prior to Montreal Olympics.

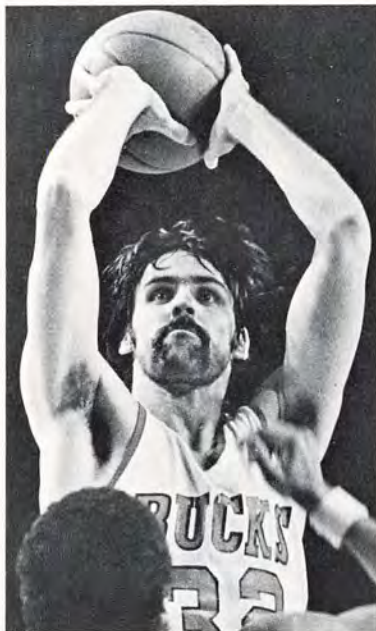

Personal: spends the off-season mainly in Chicago ... does clinics now and then ... played briefly with the Bucks in Southern California Summer League, long enough to earn assist title with 6.0 per game.

'77-'78 Regular Season: led the Bucks in points scored for the second straight year . . . Brian's average of 19.93 and total of 1,594 points are his career highs . . . B.W. also set personal season highs in games, minutes, field goals made and attempted, offensive and total rebounds, assists, steals, and disqualifications . . . the All-Star guard hovered around the twenty point mark most of the season but fell short at the end — he has never averaged a score or more at the end of the regular season . . . Brian is one of only three players in the NBA averaging over 19.0 points without attempting 300 free throws . . . led the Bucks in scoring 33 times last season tying him for team honors with Marques Johnson . . . Winters is the fifth all time scorer in Bucks history with 4,518 points . . . started slowly but really got hot after the All-Star break, scored 37 points, a Bucks season high, the game after the All-Star break and went on to average 20.8 points after that . . . Brian collected 44 twenty or more point games and the Bucks were 27-17 (.614%) in those games . . . the Bucks were also 6-1 in Brian's thirty point games . . . Brian scored in double figures 75 times last year . . . B.W. improved his overall game immeasurably — his assists average of 4.9 is his all time high as is his 1.6 steal average . . . after the All-Star break Brian scored a score or more 18 times in 29 games while shooting .484% and averaging 5.1 assists . . . his playing time average of 36.4 minutes in those games is a good measure of his value to the team.

'78 Playoffs: was second to Johnson in scoring in the playoffs . . . Winters averaged 20.4 points in the nine games and shot .497% . . . was most effective against Phoenix where he averaged 27.5 points and shot .591% . . . the veteran, playing in his second playoff series, also averaged 6.4 assists . . . Winters scored twenty or more points in 5 of the 9 games, three times against Denver . . . the Bucks were 4-1 in those five games — the only loss coming when Winters scored 27 points in the final game against Denver . . . against Detroit two years ago, Winters scored over 20 points in all three games, shot .639%, and averaged 27.3 points . . . his two year post-season totals are 22.2 point average, .533% shooting average, and 6.1 assist average . . . in 12 playoff appearances, Winters has scored 20 or more points 8 times and 30 points 3 times . . . against Denver, Winters shot .463% and averaged 18.4 points, thanks to a fine defensive job by Bobby Wilkerson . . . but, the guard averaged 6.7 assists against Denver, including a high of 11 in the first game . . . the Bucks won 3 of 4 games Brian collected 7 or more assists.

High School: prep All-American at Archbishop Molloy . . . played on a team with Indiana's Kevin Joyce that won the New York City title his junior year and were runners-up his senior season.

 When Drafted : First round by Milwaukee in 1978
 How Acquired : 1978 College draft
 Pro Experience: Currently in first NBA season
 Residence : Brooklyn, New York

Background: entertained 300 college scholarship offers and chose St. John's in the heart of New York City because as George puts it, "I was saying, 'I love New York' before the buttons came out." ... four years and 1,763 points later Johnson had won the Haggerty Award as the Metropolitan area's best player ... Johnson's college coach, Lou Carnesecca (a former coach of the ABA Nets) praises Johnson as the most intelligent man he had coached other than Rick Barry ... names the Most Valuable Player of the Metropolitan ECAC Championships his junior year ... statistically, George progressed both scoring and rebounding wise his four years as a Redman ... averaged 19.4 points and 12.0 rebounds while connecting on .509% of his field goal attempts his senior season ... an alumnus of New Utrecht High School in Brooklyn where he was an All-American ... first played organized ball on the Brooklyn-USA squad in Bedford Stuyvesant ... became an ALL-PSAL (Public School Athletic League) performer at New Utrecht High where his battles with Fort Hamilton's Bernard King were considered legendary ... can play both small and big forward ... team player who sees the game well ... good shot selection ... shoots with confidence ... quick finesse type of rebounder as opposed to a real power rebounder, gets up in the air quickly and effortlessly ... defensively is smart, works hard, and talks ... soft-spoken individual, bright and sensitive ... spent the past few summers lecturing youths in Bedford-Stuyvesant as part of Operation Sports Rescue ... puts back into the community what he has reaped.

THE OVERTIME STORY

The Bucks made a regular habit of playing in overtime games during the 1977-78 regular season. In fact, the Bucks won an NBA record eight overtime games against only one defeat. The previous record for overtime wins was seven held by four teams; Los Angeles '61-62, Boston '58-59, and New York '55-56 and '49-50.

Those eight wins were consecutive as the Bucks lost their first overtime game of the year to Boston 127-119 on November 13 in Milwaukee. At one point the Bucks had played in five overtime sessions in six games including an NBA record tying three straight from February 24 to February 28 against Chicago, New Orleans, and Washington. The NBA record for most overtime games played in one season is held by the 1950-51 Knicks at 13.

Ironically, it is that same team, New York, that Milwaukee has played the most overtime sessions with. On December 16, 1977 Milwaukee took a triple overtime thriller from the Knicks 152-150 and once again at home on March 8, 1978 127-125 in double overtime.

Other interesting overtime records: the Bucks best record (after '72-73) for overtimes played in was in 1975-76 when the Bucks were 2-3...with one double and one triple overtime game against New York, the Bucks actually played in 12 overtime periods last season — more than the eight of Washington in 1975-76 (they were 4-0 in overtime and played in two double overtime games and one triple overtime)...the Bucks outscored their opponents in the overtimes 12.0 to 8.2 in the first, 10.5 to 9.5 in the second, and 15.0 to 13.0 in the third.

BUCKS SET ATTENDANCE AND SELLOUT RECORDS

The Milwaukee Bucks set a new record for total regular season attendance during the 1977-78 season at 435,057 and total number of regular season sellouts at 27. The old marks stood at 426,784 for total attendance during the 1975-76 season while the previous sellout record was 24 set in 1974-75. The Bucks sold out twelve consecutive dates in the Arena from March 17, 1978 and extending to the final regular season date on April 7, 1978.

For the entire regular season of 41 games, the Bucks regular season attendance averages out to 10,611 fans, higher than during the championship year of 1970-71.

Through the first ten years of the franchise, the Bucks have drawn a regular season total of 3,731,632 fans over 381 games for an average of 9,994 or 90% capacity.
